Appoint Committees At Rehab. Meeting

At a meeting held in the Legion hall, with representatives from the various organizations in town present, C. R. Robson, President of the Legion, and local representative of the Department of Veterans Affairs, outlined the work that was being done for the veteran throughout Canada.

Mr. Robson felt that greater interest should be shown in this district and that citizens' committees should be appointed to aid in finding suitable opportunities for as many ex-service men and women as possible.

The general feeling voiced was that by appointing citizens' committees more intimate knowledge of local conditions would help avoid unnecessary delays, at the same time assist greatly in all investigations and thus giving more security to the veteran. It was felt that there are still a large number of problems to be solved, and that all citizens should get behind this movement by collecting data on employment, training-on-the-job, farming, university and agricultural college courses, the acute housing shortage, keeping the veteran advised as to changes in the Rehabilitation Act, and seeing that the ex-service men and women were given first chance in every case.

The following committees were appointed:

Advisory—C. R. Robson, John Jamison, G. K. Perry.

Housing—Mayor W. D. Allan, D. McAfee, A. Collier.

Replacement—Ed. Roebuck, Mel Bowie.

Ladies' Advisory—Mrs. A. Sales, Mrs. Jack Marshall.

It was decided to meet the third Tuesday of each month. The next meeting will be held on May 21st when a representative from the D.V.A. or Department of Labor will be present to discuss the various propositions confronting this district. The meetings are open to the public. More definite information will be given regarding the time and place the meeting will be held.

Good Response At T. B. Clinic

The Provincial Department of Health Tuberculosis X-ray Unit, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. N. Nelson, assisted by Arthur Ayers, is in operation in Vulcan this week. The first morning, Tuesday, April 16th, 136 X-rays were completed.

Personal letters will be written those whose chests are found to be abnormal as soon as the reports can be made. Those with normal chests will receive no word.

The X-ray staff are pleased with the way the clinic has been organized here and feel that appointments are being kept very well.

The unit will probably be here until the end of the month.

591 people had been X-rayed by Wednesday evening.

Want Recruits For Nursing

Canadian Hospital Authorities
Alarmed at Shortage Which is Now Resulting in Restricted
Service

In a recent article in "Canadian Hospital" a very gloomy view is taken of declining nursing services, considering that better pay, shorter hours, now prevail, and there are many outstanding advantages in taking up this profession. It would be expected to appeal to many healthy young girls now graduating from high school, but the supply now visible and in prospect does not equal the demand.

The magazine article says:

"The shortage of nurses in hospitals now is more acute than during the war period. The discharge of nursing students has been of no appreciable help to civilian hospitals. The ever-increasing demand for public health and industrial nurses will absorb the entire output with allowance for other factors. When thousands of needed beds for hospitals and sanatoria are made available, the situation will be further intensified.

"Today, in many cities and towns desperately short of beds, whole floors in general hospitals have been closed down—for lack of nursing personnel. Small hospitals have had to close entirely. Hospital boards are being told that it is no use going on with their much needed extensions, for nurses will not likely be available to staff them.

We hear of many explanations. Long hours, inadequate salaries,

Baseball News

It looks as though baseball is off to a good start this year. There have been two practices, both with good turnouts. This week-end, April 21st, there will be two practices, Juniors, 20 years and under, from 12 noon to 2 p.m., and Seniors from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. The following Sunday, April 28th, there will be a game between Vulcan and Mossleigh. So let's all turn out and give the boys lots of support.

hard work, poor living conditions, have all been factors, but these conditions have been much improved in most hospitals in the past five years. Considering the permanence of hospital employment, the interesting work and the various emoluments (meals, frequently residence, usually hospital and medical care), hospital employment should have real appeal to any who take the long-range view.

"There is much agitation for greater allowances, in fact, substantial pay, for pupil nurses. Most student nurses now receive a modest allowance, but some would have it much more liberal. Undoubtedly such action would be a factor in stimulating enrolment and would be highly acceptable to the students and their parents. Advocates of this course, however, seem to fail to realize that nurses-in-training are students studying for their profession. No one thinks of paying women taking arts courses preparatory to teaching, or women taking a medical course, or training as dental nurses. Student nurses are fortunate that they are not required to pay tuition fees, as is the case in some schools for nursing in the States.

"It has already been suggested by Miss Nettie Fidler and others that there might well be three levels of training: a four-year course for those going on to specialized work, a two year course for those not planning to take up special clinical, administrative or teaching work, and a one-year course for "practical" nurses or aides. The C.N.A. has been giving some thought to these possible developments, particularly with respect to the preparation of subsidiary workers.

"A course for practical nurses is now in operation in Manitoba."

Warble Fly Steals Profits

(J. L. Eaglesham in Farm and Ranch Review)

Beef on the hoof is worth 11c or 12c a pound today. We know that steers harassed by heel flies come off summer pasture 50 to 100 lbs. lighter than steers summered on fly-free range. Even 50 lbs. at 11 cents comes to $5.50 per head per year. How many head do you pasture?

Put the steers into the winter feedlot. If it costs you $25 in feed, labor, shelter, etc., to put a top market finish on the thrifty steers, the grub-ridden ones will cost you 10% more or $27.50. There's another $2.50 per head. How many do you winter?

Dairymen admit a falling off in milk flow of from 10 to 15 per cent from about June 15 to Aug. 15, owing to gadding and loss of feeding time while cows stand in sloughs or other shelter to avoid the heel fly. Again from January to March a similar drop occurs in grub-infested milking cows due to discomfort, irritation, and consequently lack of thrift. The average Alberta milk cow produces 4,500 lbs. of 3.6% milk, or 165 lbs. of butterfat per year. Of this 35 lbs. come in fly time and a similar amount in grub time. At present prices for butterfat a 10% reduction during these periods creates a leak of $4 per cow. Multiply this by the number of cows you milk.

What about the hides they take off your cattle when slaughtered? The hide is supposed to be worth about one-seventh of the total value of the animal. But the hides are usually forgotten and small wonder, for after all 61% of all Alberta hides look as though they had been shot at and not missed. Who do you think stands this loss? Who do you suppose stands the loss due to "trimming" to consequent carcass "downgrading" due move that "licked meat" and con to heel fly grub damage? A mutilated carcass just isn't first grade. What about the cut and often infected teats and udders in fly time, when your cow prefers to challenge a barbed-wire fence rather than face the apparent terror of the fly?

A pound of warble powder will treat from 50 to 75 head if the direction are followed. One treatment well done, should give about 75 per cent control—but it must be applied at the proper time, and that is just before the grubs drop to the ground. Three treatments begun at this time and spaced at three or four-week intervals will give 100 per cent control for the entire year.

Reasons For Food Scarcity

(San Francisco Argonaut)

The contention is made that the cause of food shortage is the pernicious policy of the government in respect to those who produce food. A policy that sought scarcity in order to raise price was disastrous. Nor would there have been necessity had it not been for the fact that the tariff policy of America has compelled the American farmer to sell much of his produce in cheapest markets of the world, and buy the things he needs in the dearest markets.

But in spite of the vicious policy of the government in seeking scarcity, the food shortage at present is not, in the main, due to it. The main cause of shortage is the wastefulness wrought by war. The wastage of food in army camps was nothing short of appalling. The amount of butter and meat that was thrown away daily could have supplied the wants of many millions of persons.

It is one of the many evils of war that it encourages, while it lasts the habit of reckless waste. Nobody will listen to reason in wartime.

Three B.C. members at Ottawa said Japanese should not be allowed to become Canadians and should be deported. It was claimed that they were not assimilable, and would be happier in Japan.

WEDDING BELLS

CALVERT — CRAIG

A quiet wedding of interest to many was solemnized in the Central United church, Calgary, Friday, April 12th, when Mollie Rose, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Craig, Vulcan, Alberta, became the bride of F/O J. Leslie Calvert, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Calvert, Devere Road, Tynemouth, England. Rev. C. A. Lawson performed the marriage in the presence of a few close friends.

The double ring ceremony was used. The bride was charming in an afternoon dress of robin's egg blue triple-sheer, with fitted midriff and dolman sleeves. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses and she wore a gold necklace belonging to her mother. Her small hat matched her dress.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vian attended the bride and groom as matron of honor and best man. Mrs. Vian wore a green sheer dress. Her corsage was of yellow roses and valley lilies.

Following the five o'clock ceremony a reception was held at the Palliser hotel. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by silver vases of spring flowers.

After a short honeymoon spent in the city the happy couple left by train for Yorkton, Sask., where they will make their home. For travelling the bride chose a navy blue dress and hat, with which she wore a belted shortie coat of robin's egg blue. Her accessories were of navy blue.

Before her marriage Mrs. Calvert served with the C.W.A.C. at Ottawa. F/O Calvert, of the R.C.A.F., was with the flying command servicing between England and India. He expects his discharge shortly and his plans are to enter the University of Saskatchewan. The Advocate joins the young couple's many friends in wishing them the best of luck and many years of happiness.

Here's a suggestion from this reporter. Would it not be a good idea for farmers to have a weekly half holiday as our town friends do, so that our young people, and older people, too, would have more time for sports than they now get on Sunday afternoons. The farmer cannot picture a week with only forty hours of labor, but we could get a bit nearer it and not lose a penny in doing so.

The A.M.A. disputes the claim of Hon. W. A. Fallow that expenditures on roads in recent years have exceeded gas, etc. receipts. It is said that from 1922 to 1945, revenues for motor taxes exceeded expenditures by more than 26 million.

GET A HORSE

"GETTING down to brass tacks did we reduce our worries when we traded the horse for the tractor and shanks' mare for the automobile? On the contrary we have only multiplied our troubles with every additional gadget and the only real philosophers with any knowledge of living are the children who learn by intuition and who still make a friend of horses, riding them around just as their fathers and mothers did in the days of yore."

"If I were a farmer, I would insist on keeping a few horses on the farm, for the children's sake at least, reaching out at the same time for all labor-saving devices because the farm is one place where there will never be a four-hour day. In fact the farm is still the last stronghold of simple and unaffected living, and it is fortunate for the state, that out in the country districts, you can find a free and normal existence as it used to be, although life on the farm has not yet been able to take advantage of all the good and useful features of scientific invention."—Stettler Independent.

American foreign policy would be more distinct and stable if mid-term elections were abolished and the term lengthened to five years. With elections coming every two years party politics are always on hand to disturb constancy of purpose in foreign relations. Party leaders have to give heed to the effect their policies may have on the isolationist vote, the Fenian Irish vote, the racial blocs and the ultra radical elements. If the term were lengthened, there would be a breathing spell of three years in which the party in power could do the right thing in the hope that it would be forgotten when the campaign came on.

Labor leaders have got it into their heads that they are in a position to demand rather than request and the Prime Minister, instead of being angry at the truculence of the C.C.F., could have afforded to affect amusement though he felt it not. He must have forgotten that that body is allied with the C.C.F. and that such an attack would strain the relations and mar the team play, between himself and Mr. Coldwell of which he and not the C.C.F. leader has been the chief beneficiary.

The Security Council is entitled to all the praise it gives itself if the concessions it makes to Russia are really victories for the United Nations.

The British government must be hard pressed by the tyranny of circumstance when it declines to join with the United States in an effort to save Mikhalovitch. It agrees that he did gallant work in his guerilla warfare against Germany when Stalin was in league with Hitler, but alleges that after that he was fighting Tito rather than Hitler. Perhaps, and if so, Tito is now proving that Mikhalovitch in both instances knew enemy targets when he saw them.

In eight provinces of Canada prohibition has been abandoned and various systems of government control are in operation instead, but when changes are proposed it is prohibitionists who make the loudest claim to be consulted. If a man decides to remodel his house he does not call in the wrecking crew—he calls in a builder or carpenter who understands that the design is not to pull down the structure but improve it.

The Russian embassy at Ottawa (what is left of it) denounces Goushenko as a criminal. It is not suggesting that he was one of the four Russians who broke into his apartment one night last September. They say he is a thief and he swears they will kill him if they get the chance, and so they will, for they are terribly down on anyone who steals, especially one who steals from them something that did not belong to them but that they had gone to a lot of trouble to obtain.

If Russia now applies the heat to Iraq and Turkey, what encouragement have they to stand pat? What assurance have they that the Security Council will not take the easy way out and then disperse for a fortnight to bask in the sunshine of its virtue and boast that its surrender was a victory for the U.N.?

Record Traffic For C.P.R. in '45

D. C. Coleman, president of the C.P.R. reports an all-time record volume of transportation for the C.P.R. in 1945.

He said that although "the flood of freight traffic derived from war production and from the export of war material suddenly ceased at the victorious ending of the conflicts in Europe and Asia, the relief and rehabilitation needs of devastated Europe and the repatriation of thousands of Canada's fighting men provided new sources of traffic."

Mr. Coleman reported that net earnings from railway operations were substantially less owing to increased costs. This was partially offset, he stated, by an improvement in "other" income, such as communications and hotels, and in reduction of fixed charge.

The volume of traffic handled exceeded that carried by all Canadian railways in any of the immediate pre-war years. Working expenses totalled $280,055,024 and were the largest in the history of the company. Net earnings at $36,054,334, equal to $1.98 an ordinary share after preferred dividends, compared with $43,159,664 or $2.21 in 1944.

Net earnings were smaller in proportion to gross than at any time in the past.

Freight earnings accounted for $227,707,486 or 72 per cent of the gross earnings, a reduction of $5,410,987. Approximately half reduction in earnings from grain and grain products. Grain loadings on the western lines dropped 44,000,000 bushels. This was offset to some extent by increased all-rail movements of grain from the lakehead and Georgian Bay ports to St. Lawrence and Atlantic coast ports.

Leave It To God

Correspondent Sees Many Errors in Man's Planning; Would Leave Sowing and Harvest to God

T. A. Eisenboise, now of Lethbridge, Alberta, and formerly of Arrowwood, sends an article to the Times, in which he thinks that man has proved very faulty in his judgment of world crop needs. He believes that God is a better judge of production, and man's attempt at dictation and regulation has made a mess of things.

"I read in a report coming to me from Canada the following: 'Right now the world's food situation is at its most critical stage. It will be served months before any harvests are available, reserves are melting fast, and shortages loom.'

The facts are that the United States and Canada for quite several years past have been blessed with very good crops. People who are not familiar with conditions in Canada, and in the United States do not realize the true condition of things as they are now. In normal times wheat in Winnipeg is worth from six to eight cents more than in Chicago. The difference is in the value of the hard wheat. Since the war was on Canada was blessed with such crops that it was hard to know what to do with it. All the elevators were full to capacity, and all of them built enormous bins adjoining to house the surplus. Farmers therefor for several years could not deliver their wheat at pleasure. They were prescribed by law as to when and how they could deliver for several years when wheat was worth $1.50 per bushel in Chicago. On account of this enormous amount of wheat in Canada the farmers were getting seventy cents per bushel at the terminal for No. 1 wheat. For several years at that rate they received little over fifty cents for No. 1 and less for lower grades. This was laid on the farmer. The question which I ask you to answer in the face of condition today, what would have been the condition in the world if these enormous supplies had not been piled up?

"Talk about a 'normal supply' regulated by man's dictation. Silly isn't it? In 1929 the Wheat Pool in Alberta started out as was its custom to give an initial price at delivery, and several payments thereafter as time and circumstances suggested. I am, comparing man with God. That year the initial was one dollar. This price was arrived at by the combined thought and judgment of the officials of the Pool, bank managers and government officials.

"When the crash came that year, instead of the Pool being able to make interim payments as usual, if it had not been for the fact that the Alberta Government came to the rescue of the Pool at the time of five million dollars, it would have been broken wide open on the hard 'rock of man's judgment.' Might I add this money is being paid back and the Pool is sound.

"Isn't it a fine illustration between the difference of God's, and man's knowledge? To make the situation a little more graphic, Total wheat supplies in all positions at the close of business March 14 were 11.8 million bushels as compared with 355.0 million bushels on the same date a year ago. This is in Canada."

"You say 'we have known these things before.' Have we acted like it? Nevertheless it reminds us that if it wasn't for God we would be in a much worse fix than we find ourselves in. That might be funny talk too for if it wasn't for God we wouldn't be at all, much less talking about 'normal supplies' and a 'normal granary.' Oh, yes, we could 'kill' them off and 'plow them under.' But before the electricity is cut from the iron cage, and the plow is taken from the field we awake to the fact that we had made a mess of it. Doesn't it teach us a lesson on man's boasted knowledge and wisdom? What would have happened if we had been blessed with just normal or less crops during these war years? Isn't it so, like the writer of Proverbs says concerning the rich man 'The rich man's wealth is his strong city, and as a high wall in his own conceit.' Let us be more consistent brethren, giving God more honor and taking less credit to our own understanding."

Calgary has voted to go on daylight saving time, the change coming May 15.

The provincial government has agreed to guarantee debentures covering half the cost of the projected two million dollar sugar refinery at Brooks. But the other half must be put up by the company. Already $600,000 has been raised amongst over 1000 farmers participating in the co-operative undertaking.

Russia claims that 500,000 Soviet prisoners died in German prison camps in the last four months of 1941.

THEREFORE, notice is hereby given by the Board of the said School Division or District that unless a poll of the proprietary electors of the said School Division or District for and against the said debenture loan is demanded as provided by The School Act, the said Board will apply to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners for authority to borrow the said sum by debentures.

Of which all persons interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.

R. W. Clow, Chairman

Dated at Lethbridge this 15th day of April, 1946

OVER 2200 TOWNS, VILLAGES AND CITIES IN ALBERTA
DEPEND ON HIGHWAYS
AS THEIR ECONOMIC LIFELINE FOR INDUSTRY AND COMMERCE

Alberta is preparing for invasion... invasion by the friendliest, most travel-minded people in the world... the people of the United States. Holiday-hungry for the most magnificent scenery on earth, they will converge upon this vacation wonderland that is Alberta. They will come by train, by plane, and by bus, but... owning, as they do, 25 million automobiles, more than one-quarter of our tourists will come by motor car.

These motoring tourists are our most profitable tourists! They touch upon a greater number of our communities for gasoline and services, more vacation spots are accessible to them, thus their tourist dollars are spread over a wide area.

INDEED, the motoring tourist is one to get excited about... AND, we can expect them in ever increasing numbers as our highway and tourist facilities are improved and expanded.

OVER SIX MILLION DOLLARS WILL BE EXPENDED ON HIGHWAY BUILDING AND IMPROVEMENTS IN 1946

Alert to the tremendous advantages and scenic attractions we have to make Alberta a tourist mecca, the Provincial Government is spending to the limit of available materials and labor on highway construction and repairs. Every fair minded citizen knows these expenditures are a sound investment, for all-weather highways will pay for themselves. If our highways are below standard, we in Alberta will pay for them, but... if they are good... the people of the United States, the tourists who motor here... will pay for them... GLADLY!

47% OF TOURIST DOLLARS GOES FOR SALARIES AND WAGES TO ALBERTA PEOPLE

When a tourist takes a dollar bill out of his pocketbook this is where it goes:

- 1-23c to hotels and resorts;
- 2-31c for retail purchases;
- 3-18c for restaurants;
- 4-8c for entertainment;
- 5-10c to GARAGES AND GASOLINE STATIONS;
- and 10c for miscellaneous items.

Estimating the tourists to spend approximately 10 Million dollars this year, here is how the money will be distributed:

INCREASED TOURIST TRADE WILL INCREASE BUSINESS AND EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES

As our highway system is expanded and brought up to date, more and more tourists will stream into Alberta. This means we must plan to expand our present facilities. Opportunities will be provided for our Veterans to establish themselves in businesses catering to this lucrative Tourist Industry, and an additional market for everything we make and grow will mean much to Alberta Producers and Industry... opening new opportunities for employment for our citizens.

DO YOUR PART TO BUILD OUR TOURIST INDUSTRY

Like other businesses, tourist trade is highly competitive; and like other business managers, we must be alert and on the job to promote our business by telling the world that WE have the best bargain in scenery... the best product in the world. As each one of us is an important stockholder in the tourist business, we must not miss a single opportunity to boost. Sell Alberta's attractions in your letters and invite friends in the States and Canada to vacation here. AND, when they do arrive, show them every courtesy and make them welcome. REMEMBER, your consideration for tourist comfort and enjoyment will pay off in BIG DOLLARS.

THE TOURIST BUSINESS IS EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS... IT'S GOOD BUSINESS
